

How do you do that?

1. The first and most important step is a moisture barrier and effective insulation. ThermoBlok has a special high performance insulation that will keep humidity out and heat in. It has the added advantage of not using much space since no cavity is required as in batting insulation. For a relatively low cost you can insulate your floors and walls which will greatly reduce your heating bills. Basements are huge heat sponges.
2. Heated floors will increase your comfort by a considerable degree and while at the same time increasing your energy efficiency.
3. Quality flooring of ceramic tiles, floating floors or hardwood will add luxury to your décor.
4. Walls of properly applied drywall sheeting and painted with quality paint will brighten your basement and make it resemble other rooms in your home.
5. Ceilings can be done in drywall or hanging ceilings.
6. Efficient storage with shelving, cabinets, drawers, closets, etc. will enable you to obtain maximum use of your space.
